внезапные налеты,
разрывов грохот...

A group of soldiers in military uniforms are crossing a narrow suspension bridge made of wooden planks and cables. The bridge spans a deep, lush green valley. The soldiers are walking away from the camera, and a dog is also on the bridge. The scene is set in a forested area with tall trees and dense vegetation.
